TRENDS

Digitalization in healthcare

Crucial for better healthcare: digitalization enhances efficiency and quality. Despite awareness, many organizations lag behind.

Information security

Organizations are under pressure to establish robust security infrastructures. Safeguarding patient data is crucial for privacy, trust, and compliance with laws and regulations.

Collaboration among healthcare organizations

All healthcare institutions face similar challenges, presenting opportunities for collaboration and mutual learning.

The need for innovation

With an aging population leading to increased demand for healthcare, the pressure on healthcare professionals is growing. Smart solutions need to be devised to cope with this demand.

Capacity pressure

The aforementioned trends create a demand for specific expertise. When everyone seeks that expertise simultaneously, it creates another issue. Better coordination is needed.

Adoption of new technology

Fear among healthcare workers due to the introduction of new technology. 'Will robots take over my job?'
